Dear Sirs:

Docket # 92-254

Please do not change the rules
you have in place. Pro life commercials have a right and a place on TV. Please keep them on.

Dear Commissioners:

I was disturbed to find out recently that the FCC was considering allowing radio and TV stations to apply restrictions to advertisements of federal political candidates. Although this is being done under the guise of "decency" and "protecting children", it is a blatant attempt to limit the expression of those candidates who hold a particular view, specifically, that abortion is wrong. To me this is nothing more than screening content for it's "political correctness". Was this the intent of the rules and regulations that the FCC approved concerning decency and obscenity? I don't believe so.

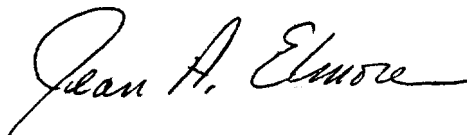

The results of what happens with an abortion are startling and sickening; not unlike the death which may result following a drunk-driving accident. People in support of abortion don't want to be reminded that these dismembered babies are the result of something they and our country condone.

When the political and philosophical persuasions of a few are allowed to limit the accessibility of the masses to factual information about candidates running for federal office, I believe we have lost our right to be fully informed.

Please consider wisely the far reaching ramifications of what your decision will be. Approval of such restrictions on political advertisements is allowing censorship of "politically incorrect" information. It is not an effort to protect the public from indecency or obscenity. Such regulations and restrictions already exist.

Thank you for considering these comments.

Sincerely,

Dear Sirs,

I am writing in reference to MM Docket No. 92-254. Dan Becker's campaign ads appeared to have been censored due to his views. I do not believe ANY political candidate should be censored merely because the station doesn't share his views.

Sincerely,

When it may concern:

We are writing this to urge you to please keep the rules as they are now. What the networks are proposing actually would be a form of censorship. The censorship of television is not for the networks themselves to decide. Please don't let them "pull another fast one" on the American people.

Thank-You.

RE: 92-254

Proposed rule change allowing stations to edit, change, etc. political advertising given equal time.

Comment:

Please do not change the rules on airing political advertising. The stations should not be given the power to censor or change statements of a candidate. The candidate him(her)self should be responsible for content. The open forum position of political advertising is necessary unless prevailing rules or laws (i.e. pornography) are applicable.
